WOMEN GET OFF CARS BACKWARD.

They Are Usually Thinking of Walking Back Over the Route.

After the woman had rolled over two or three times in the dust and made a voluminous display of lingerie, she struggled to her feet Her face was very red, her back hair was terribly mussed and her draperies in most inartistic disorder. She scornfully refused to give her name to the conductor, who rushed to her assistance, and would not say whether she was hurt. As she turned to walk away the conductor whistled "go ahead," and smiles began to show among the passengers.

"She's like all the rest of 'em," was the contemptuous comment of the conductor as he jumped on the car.

"I never knew a conductor who stopped his train at the right place," sneered a fat woman who overheard the conductor's remark. "It's the greatest wonder in the world that more people are not killed by the carelessness of them conductors. They haven't a bit of accommodation in their souls."

"Did you hear that woman?" inquired another passenger. "She blames the conductor for that woman's tumble and will in all probability alight from the car backward when she reaches her destination. I have been a close observer of this perverse habit of women who ride on the street cars, and believe that I have solved the problem

"Why do they turn their faces the wrong way? I saw a theory advanced the other day in a newspaper that left handed women were never seen to take a tumble because their stronger arm aided them to retain their balance when alighting. But it really makes no difference whether a woman is left or right handed. She gets on a car and tells the conductor to let her off at Twenty-first street She has been down town shopping and is in a hurry to reach home.

"All the time the cable is pulling her homeward she keeps thinking of how much she will have to do when her journey is ended. The conductor yells 'Twenty-first street!'

"She is aroused with a start from her study, intent only on getting off the car. You have noticed, no doubt, that a cable train always passes a crossing before it stops. There is the whole secret of a woman's many tumbles She would be safe and happy if the conductor would only stop the train so she could step off at the right spot exactly. But the car passes the crossing, and unconsciously she turns her face in the direction she wishes to go. If she would wait until the car stops all would be well, but the thought that she is being carried past her destination makes her hurry. Before the car stops, she thinks of the few extra steps she will have to take if she is carried any farther and jumps off. You know the rest, and there is the true reason why 99 women in 100 get off a street car backward. The 100th woman is on the rear seat of the last car and steps off at the right place."—Chicago Herald.

A Valuable Team.

The man from Saginaw was visiting the national capital to see the sights One day, on Pennsylvania avenue, he saw a heavy, close, dark wagon, more like a black maria than anything else, and asked his guide what it was.

"It's rather strange about that," said the guide in the slowly didactic style. "You've been talking about the salaries of officials here, from the president's $50,000 a year down, but do you know the horses to that wagon beat them all?"

"That so?" said the Saginawster. "They don't look like they could earn more than $5 a day anyhow. I've got better horses than that to hire at $5 a day and feed."

The guide looked at his charge with pity.

"Why, my dear sir," he explained, "those horses draw millions from the treasury every year."

The Saginaw man wouldn't have it and said so with profane emphasis.

"But it is true nevertheless," insisted the guide. "That's the wagon they haul the gold and silver in," and the Saginawster looked at it steadily.—Detroit Free Press.

Spelling Comes by Nature.

In confirmation of the saying that "spelling comes by nature" the case may be cited of a certain little girl, 6 years old, whose parents are both good spellers. At school recently she was given to write out a list of 78 words, which contained many rather hard ones, such as "hatchet," "receive," "neighbor" and so on She spelled every word correctly and was the only scholar in the school who did so.

Now and then it happens, however, that the child of a famous speller breaks its parent's heart by proving an incorrigibly bad speller. In such a case the disappointed parent may console himself with the reflection that the child inherits his bad spelling from a grandparent, or even from some more remote ancestor.—Youth's Companion.

First Type Cast In America.

It was a good man, Christopher Sower, who made the first punches and matrices and cast the first type in America. The anvil he made them on is still preserved They were for a German Bible which he published. "The price of our newly finished Bible, in plain binding, with a clasp, will be 18 shillings," he said, "but to the poor and needy we have no price."

John the Baptist sent the message to Christ. "Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?" and Jesus sent back word, "The poor have the gospel preached to them." Sower's German Bible was printed in 1743 and was the first Bible published in America in any European language.—Age of Steel

Education May Not Produce Beauty

It may be doubted, strange as many may deem the assertion, whether continuous education will produce beauty, whether the growth of intelligence will even in ages yield the physical result which we notice the authors of Utopias always assume, as if it were a scientifically demonstrable consequence of the new society.—Million.

HOW MANY deaths have been the result of treating with unscrupulous demagogues.

How many deaths have been caused by the use of poison (morphine, acconite, strychnine, beladonna, etc)

In how many cases has death been hastened by the use of mineral (mercury, iron, zinc, chloral).

In how many cases have men and women been ruined for life by the use of the ever ready knife, at the hands of a so-called Specialist.

How many people there are who go from doctor to doctor and from hospital to hospital, suffering from a complication of diseases, and being treated for first one thing and then another, and never realizing the least benefit. Never in any case having received anything but a combination of mineral poison, and as a consequence, accelerated misery and distress.

To such the discovery of a doctor who understands his or her case, who applies a common sense treatment and relieves the sufferer from pain and distress by Nature's remedies, is like a flash of heavenly light from a dark and overcast sky.

TARIFF REFORM.

The Tariff Reform Club of New York City has appointed a committee to prepare a tariff bill. The Chairman of that committee is E. Ellery Anderson, who was a member of the commission that visited the Pacific Coast some years ago to investigate the affairs of the Central Pacific Railroad. He says the bill which the Reform Club will submit to Secretary Carlisle for the approval of the Administration and submission to Congress when it assembles, will be in harmony with the Chicago platform. Duties will be fixed on a revenue basis only, and will be so arranged that no industry will be crippled.

This is supposed to mean that no article of American product or manufacture will be placed on the free list. While no details of the bill are made public it is assumed that the bounty on sugar will be abolished and that foreign sugar will be made dutiable, otherwise the sugar industry will be crippled. It is also reasonable to suppose that wool will not be placed on the free list, as the Mills bill provided it should be.

There is no surplus in the National Treasury now, as was the case under Mr. Cleveland's former Administration. The expenditures of the Government amount to about half a billion dollars a year, which is fully as much as, if not more than, the receipts. The greater part of the revenue required for the support of the Government, say at least $300,000,000 a year, must be collected from duties on imports. A greatly increased free list is therefore out of the question, and a reasonably high tariff must necessarily be the rule, not the exception.

It would seem, however, that a convention of representative men, engaged in the various industries affected by the tariff, would be preferable to a political club for framing a tariff bill for the approval of the Administration and submission to Congress.

AMERICAN FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE

Senator Stewart does not believe in the international monetary conference. He says:

"The suggestion that the cause of silver must be submitted to an international conference of bondholders and money loaners, who are predetermined to destroy silver as money at all hazards, is unreasonable. If the producers of England who have been robbed could be consulted the question would be different. But the bondholders and money loaners of Europe, and particularly of England, mock our supplications and ridicule our subserviency. An international conference composed of men whose schemes have already depressed the price of commodities throughout the world fully 40 per cent, ruined silver mining and impoverished the farmers of both Europe and America, to determine the right of the United States to establish an independent financial policy, is most humiliating. As long as the bondholders rule England and England dictates our financial policy we will continue to be her dependent vassal. Our political independence is a delusion if with it we are denied financial independence."

FOLLOWING are the names of the Populist Congressmen, each and all of whom are pledged to the free coinage of silver, who were elected last November: Judge J. C. Bell and Lafe Pence, Colorado, Marion Cannon, California; Francis G Newlands, Nevada; V. Halverson, Minnesota; W. A. McKeighton and O M. Kern, Nebraska; A. W. Harris, Jerry Simpson, John Davis, William Baker and T. J Hudson, Kansas; Joseph C Sibley, Pennsylvania; A. C Lattimar, South Dakota; K. J Strait, W. J Talbert and J. L. McLaughlin, South Carolina.

THE Mexican Mission pays as well as the British, French, German and Russian, and the expenses are considerably less That is why persons of limited means prefer to be Minister to Mexico. It cost more than the salary attached to the office in England, France, Germany and Russia and only rich men can afford to take those missions.

EVERY goldbug Senator in the Republican Senatorial caucus, except Chandler of New Hampshire, voted to remove Senator Stewart from the Committee on Appropriations. The pretext was that Stewart's acceptance of a committee chairmanship from the Democrats barred him from asking favors from the Republicans.

IT is announced to t ex President Harrison will be tendered the Presidency of the Indiana State University. The details of the management will be placed in the hands of one of the professors, so that if Mr. Harrison accepts he will have to give the University only a limited amount of personal attention.

IT is believed at Washington that the free gold in the Treasury will aggregate about $7,000,000 this week. The demand for gold for export is not as great as it has been and none was shipped from New York last Saturday.

"BENJAMIN HARRISON Attorney and Counselor-at Law, Indianapolis, Ind.," in small type and blue ink, is the business card on an envelope received at the Postoffice Department at Washington last Monday.

FLOODS IN CALIFORNIA.

Cleveland Ignores Delegation Endersement.

JOHN W. MACKAY IMPROVING.

Reorganization of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 21 —The Democrats of the Senate met in caucus at noon to consider the subject of the reorganization of the elective officers of the Senate. The caucus adjourned at four o'clock, having come to the determination to nominate the elective officers. The ticket so nominated is composed of Wm. R. Cox, of North Carolina, ex-Representative, for Secretary of the Senate. Rhinehard J. Bright of Indiana, ex-Sergeant-at-Arms for Sergeant-at-Arms; Rev. W. H. Milburn, the present chaplain of the House of Representatives for chaplain of the Senate.

The result was not reached without a protracted debate for there is a considerable element in the party that is opposed to the idea of doing anything that would be in violation of the precedents of the Senate and give cause for opposition on the part of Republicans. A motion for the admission of the three Senators who were appointed by the Governors of Montana, Wyoming and Washington was not broached. The question will come before the Senate on the report of the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

After the caucus was over, one of the leading members of the Democrat committee says it was the intention of the party to make an attempt to elect the nominees. Just when this will be done he could not say, but a resolution he thought, might be introduced in the Senate at any time. If the Republicans appeared determined in in their efforts to retain the present reorganization at this session, it may be the Democrats will desist and let it go over It appears though that there is no probability of the abandonment of the idea to make at least an effort to carry out the will of the caucus.

California Floods.

MILTON, Cal., March 21.—The California Company's reservoir at Head Rock creek, known as the Salt Spring Valley reservoir, is in danger. This morning about 100 feet of the outer breast, some eight feet thick, caved down. The latest news is that a crack 150 yards long between the inner and outer breasts had opened to about the size of a man's body. If this large body of water should be precipitated onto the valley it would do immense damage to the residents along Rock creek, and also at Farmington and the city of Stockton.

LODI, Cal., March 21.—The water here is higher than for years A wagon bridge near Woodbrige and the railroad bridge on Bear creek were washed away during the storm. The water in the Mokelumne river at Woodbridge at 3 o'clock this afternoon lacked only a few inches of being on the top of the levee. If the levee breaks thousands of acres of grain will be ruined and no telling how much property will be destroyed. The bridge on the narrow gauge road that was washed out Sunday has been repaired and trains are running on time again.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 21.—News at 2:30 P. M. is that the San Diego river is the highest in five years and from 8 A. M. to noon rose two and a half feet. It has swung to the south bank in Mission Valley and makes the road from Old Town to the county hospital impassable. Ford approaches are swept away and it is impossible to cross the river. The sun is out and it is clearing, but the weather observer predicts rain to night.

A Carson Teacher's Injuries.

CARSON, March 21 —A few days ago Miss Lizzie Dugan, an instructor at the Indian school known as the Stewart Institute, in attempting to separate two Indian girls who were quarreling was struck over the head and otherwise injured. Her injuries at first were supposed to be slight, but information comes from the school to-day that the young lady is much worse. Both combatants are now in jail awaiting further developments in the case of Miss Dugan.

Beaten to Death.

PHŒNIX, A. T., March 21.—Benito Grihalva, who was arrested yesterday and sentenced to six months in the county jail for wife beating, was accused to-day of the murder of an old man lived in the same family. Justice Kincaid and a coroner's jury are now at the scene of action four miles southwest of the city. The report is that the old gentleman was beaten to death with a club.

A Rate of $100.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21 —The North American Navigation Company has announced a passenger rate of $100 from here to New York. The company is not especially desirous of obtaining passenger business, but will carry travelers if they wish to go at that figure.

Elected Department Commander.

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—State Senator E C. Seymour was elected Department Commander of the G. A. R. of California to-day.

Delegation Endorsement Without Weight.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The pressure excited by Congressmen at the White House for appointments has developed into an individual scramble. The President effectually disintergrated the delegation indorsement system and now each man is going in for himself and pushing for individual friends. One result which the President achieved, and which was his design, is the breaking up of the ring of politics in delegations. The patronage heretofore considered the sacred property of Senators, for instance, marshals and district attorneys, are now declared free for all and the humble members of the Lower House or even a group of private citizens may present the names of candidates with some degree of hope for success.

John W. Mackay Better.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Drs. Morse and Keney, who are attending John W. Mackay, had a consultation this evening and at 8:30 made the announcement that Mr. Mackay passed a very good afternoon. He slept well and awoke much refreshed. Both physicians are very much pleased with his condition and he is doing as well as possible, that the crisis has passed and quiet and rest are all that is necessary to restore him to good health.

Committed Suicide.

TUCSON, A. T., March 21.—H. S. Stevens, a prominent cattleman and delegate to Congress from Arizona from 1872 to 1876, shot himself this afternoon, dying in two hours. He has been despondent for some time, owing to cattle losses and ill health. Deceased was a highly respected citizen.

No Cholera.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The United States Consul at Rotterdam informs the State Department that there has not been a case of cholera in Rotterdam since November 17, 1892, or in the whole Netherlands since January 12, 1893.

Woman Suffrage in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, March 21 —By a vote of 31 to 19 the Senate to-day passed the Senate bill extending full suffrage at all elections in Minnesota to women.

A Gain of Gold.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—A ten days' statement issued by the Treasury Department to-day gives the gold in the Treasury as $106 575,000, a gain of $4,000,000 within the last ten days.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The forecast for Nevada is clearing and warmer by Wednesday night.

Efficacy of "Chlorobrom."

A combination to which the name of chlorobrom has been given—a solution containing 30 grains of chloralamide and a similar amount of potassium bromide, in an ounce of menstruum—has come unto considerable favor, according to some of the foreign journals, as an efficacious preventive of seasickness on short voyages. The passenger is recommended to take a podophyllin pill for one or two nights before the date of sailing, and when on board to remain for a time, before rough water is reached, in a horizontal position with eyes shut, and to take no food on short trips.

Powdered Foods.

Many artificial baby foods are manufactured and sold in concentrated form. For example, products advertised as "substitutes for mother's milk" are made from cow's milk, to which is added a sufficient quantity of sugar to correspond with the constituents of mother's milk. The water is removed from the mixture in vacuo, leaving a fine white powder, which is put up in packages. Finely powdered wheat flour and other nutritious vegetable elements are added in more elaborate preparations.—San Francisco Examiner.

On Time.

First Commuter (at the ferry)—Our train must have arrived on time this morning.

Second Commuter—Why do you think so?

First Commuter—There is no boat in.—New York Weekly.

NEW LAWS.

To Provide Revenue for the Support of the Government of the State of Nevada.

Approved March 6, 1893.

SECTION 1. In all cases where a railroad is located and is being or has been constructed in or through one or more counties of this State, the President, Secretary, General Superintendent or managing agent of the corporation, company or person owning the same, or managing agent thereof, within the county, shall within a reasonable time after demanded by the City Assessor of any county in or through which such road is being or has been constructed furnish to such Assessor a statement under oath or affirmation, which shall be in writing, duly subscribed and sworn to before some officer authorized by the laws of this State to administer oaths, setting forth the length of said road in such county and the value thereof, with a list of the property, real and personal [except rolling stock], pertaining thereto, also the whole length of said road within the State, and the number and value of all locomotives and cars, commonly known as rolling stock, used on said road within this State, and an apportionment of the value of such rolling stock to such county, the same to be estimated according to the proportion which the true portion in said county bears to the whole length of said railroad within the State. But in the event that any portion of the rolling stock or personal property of a railroad company, operated wholly within the State, shall not be used or employed in all the counties through or into which said railroad runs, then such portion of said rolling stock or personal property shall only be assessed in the county or counties where used or employed, and shall be considered in any apportionment of the value of the rolling stock or personal property of such railroad in counties where not used or employed. The statement, however, shall not be conclusive, nor shall the value therein fixed bind the Assessor; but he shall, notwithstanding, proceed to value and assess said property according to his official judgment.

SEC. 2. The word "railroad" shall be held to include, in addition to the track of said railroad, including the rails, couplings, spikes, ties, bridges, culverts, tunnels, cuts, fills, embankments, and the land owned by the right of way of such railroad, all the structures, fixtures, improvements and buildings of said railroad owned thereon or used in connection therewith The personal property belonging to said railroad, or used in connection therewith, and in operating the same, including the rolling stock, furniture, tools, implements, wood and coal, shall be valued and assessed separately from the track of said road, and shall be listed and entered on the assessment roll under the head of personal property, all buildings and superstructures belonging to or used in connection with said railroad, except such as form a part of the track of said road, including depots, storehouses, woodsheds, machine shops and roundhouses, shall be assessed separately from the track and listed as real estate.

SEC 3. In ascertaining, assessing and fixing the value of any railroad for taxation the Assessor shall assess it the same as other property, and shall consider, treat and assess the portion thereof at its value within his county as an integral part of a complete, continuous and operated line of railroad, and not as so much land covered by the right of way merely, nor as so many miles of track consisting of iron rails, ties and couplings.

SEC. 4. If any corporation, company, or persons owing such railroad failing, neglecting, neglecting, or refusing, after being notified to furnish a statement for assessment and taxation, as provided in this Act, the County Assessor may proceed to make the assessment in the same manner as in other cases, and as provided in an Act to provide revenue for the support of the government of the State of Nevada, approved March 23 1891.

SEC. 5. All Acts and parts of Acts in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed.

For the Government and Maintenance of the State Orphans' Home.

Approved February 25, 1893

SECTION 1. Section 9 of the above entitled Act, approved March 1, 1873, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section nine. Upon complying with the requirements of this Act, all orphans under 14 years of age may be admitted to the State Orphans' Home; provided, no orphan ever shall be admitted to, or received into, said State Orphans' Home who is either an insane person, an idiot, or a person so mentally or physically deformed as to be incapable of receiving the elements of an education in the usual English branches. For the purposes of this Act, the age of majority for all orphans that are or may be wards of the State, shall be 18 years,

To Pay Deficiencies in the State Agricultural Society.

Approved February 21, 1893.

SECTION 1. The sum of $6,500 is hereby appropriated out of moneys in the General Fund of the State for the payment of deficiencies in the appropriations for the years 1891 and 1892, as follows: To the State Agricultural Society, $6,500.

SEC 2. The State Controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant in favor of the State Agricultural Society for the amount specified in this Act, and the State Treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

Tremont Temple which has been one of the most conspicuous buildings in Boston in the present generation was damaged by fire to the extent of $325,000 last Sunday. It was the largest Baptist Church in the United States and was built for the purpose of founding a free church where all persons, whether rich or poor, without distinction of color or condition, might worship. The temple was burned in 1852, and in 1853 a new building on the old site was completed at a cost of $126,000. This was destroyed in August, 1879, but it was promptly rebuilt at a cost of $230,000. There were seats for 9,000 persons.

A TRYING ORDEAL.

A Wounded Man Drags Himself Fourteen Miles.

Authentic reports were received at Beowawe Sunday, correcting a previous statement, relative to E D, Watti.

About noon Monday, March 13th, Mr. Watti's horse slipped on the ice and fell on him breaking one leg and badly injuring one arm. Being alone on a wild mountain trail he started to drag himself to Mr. Addington's hay ranch which was fourteen miles distance, where he arrived Thursday noon in a pitiful condition. He was more dead than alive when he was discovered as he had been without food and water for three days and nights and the weather was cold and stormy most of the time.

His hands and knees were bruised and swollen and a bloody trail was left to tell the terrible fate of his lonesome travel of fourteen miles in three days' time. Owing to the long distance to telegraphic facilities it was impossible to get medical aid to his assistance until Saturday morning. There is strong hopes of his recovery after one of the most trying ordeals that a human being could suffer. Mr. Watti says that a pack of howling coyotes followed him nearly all the way and gave him warning that they were ready to devour him at a moment's notice, and the awful thoughts of such a death gave him more courage to hurry on his painful journey.

An Austin dispatch says: The news that E. E. Watti of Grass Valley was found by W. D. Addington and Andrew Lepitich, of Carico Lake Valley, with an arm and a leg broken was received here to-day. Watti had been to Austin on horseback and was returning home by way of Carico. The horse fell and broke Watti's arm and leg, got away and went to Addington's. Addington and Lepitich searched and found Watti, barely saving his life. They took him to Addington's and sent for Mrs. Watti. Dr. Hood was called from Battle Mountain to treat the sufferer. It was a narrow escape and he is still in a critical condition. Watti was a man in good health 40 years old and may escape death.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Young Lady Instantly Killed at Glendale.

Yesterday John Klippe, a Glendale farmer, went from a field where he and his son and a hired man were at work, to the house to see if dinner was ready. His daughter, Mary, a young lady about 22 years of age, kept house for the family and upon entering the kitchen Mr. Klippe called his daughter by name and receiving no reply went into the sitting room, where he was horrified at the sight that greeted his eyes. Lying upon the floor in a pool of blood was the lifeless body of his daughter, with a single barrel, breech-loading shotgun by her side. Mr. Klippe called his son and the hired man and dispatched the latter to town for Coroner Brown and Undertaker Sanders, who went immediately to the ranch. The Coroner impaneled a jury and an examination of the body revealed a shotgun wound in the left breast below the heart. The shot evidently pierced the heart and came out on the left side between the lower rib and hip and doubtless caused instant death. The inquest will be concluded to-day and a verdict returned by the jury.

Miss Klippe was a highly respectable and industrious young lady. She was born on the farm where she had lost her life and had kept house for her father and brother for several years, her mother having died when she was a child. The supposition is that she was handling the gun and that it was accidentally discharged. Two young ladies had called at the house shortly before the accident, but as they had not been examined by the Coroner last evening, the JOURNAL has not ascertained what light, if any, they can shed on the sad occurrence.

The funeral will take place from the ranch at 12.30 o'clock to-morrow (Thursday) and services will be held at Trinity Church at 2 P. M. The interment will be at the Odd Fellows' Cemetery where Mrs. Klippe, the mother of the young lady, is buried. Deceased was a niece of J. J. Backer, the well known citizen of Reno.

Woolgrowers' Meeting.

The following appears as an advertisement in the Silver State:

WHEREAS, The late Legislature passed two laws affecting the sheep industry of this State, it is deemed advisable that a meeting of the woolgrowers of the State be had. Therefore, notice is hereby given that a meeting of the woolgrowers of Nevada will be held at the courthouse in Winnemucca, Nevada, on the afternoon of April 1, 1893, for the purpose of considering matters of vital importance to all persons interested in the sheep industry. All persons interested in the sheep business are earnestly requested to be present.

HOW TO PRONOUNCE "HAWAII."

Some Peculiarities of the Kanaka Language.

"How do you pronounce the name of the island kingdom that wants to be annexed to the United States?" is a question frequently propounded and variously answered nowadays, says the New York Sun. The most commonly accepted pronunciation, and the one authorized by Lippincott's, Worcester's, Webster's and the Century dictionaries is, for the name of the principal island of the group, "Hah-wi-e," the second syllable accented and the "i" pronounced as in "pine." The same question was once asked of a high-caste Hawaiian lady, well educated in her own and the English languages. She answered.

"The proper pronunciation is Hah-vah-e-e. There is no "w" in our alphabet, and no letter or combination of letters which takes the sound of 'w' as in English. The missionaries who first translated our language found it difficult to pronounce or express the sound which is to my ear correctly conveyed by the letter 'v' softened and made full. Our 'a' is pronounced broad, as you pronounce it in 'fall,' and our 'i' is like the English 'e.' The rule is to pronounce every vowel, and, as the exception to the rule does not affect the double 'i' in Hawaii, you see that the word is 'Hah-vah-e-e.'"

These are the twelve letters in the Hawaiian language, with their pronunciation: a (ah), e (a), i (e), o (oh), u (oo), h (hay), k (kay), l (lah), m (moo), n (noo), p (pay), v (vay). There is no sound of "s" as in the English language, except where "si" follows "w," or, as the Hawaiian lady would insist, "v." There is a great difference in the language as spoken by the high and low caste Hawaiians. The low caste speak with a succession of explosive, staccato gutturals, the high caste with a liquid flow that makes it a beautiful language. The insistence upon the "v" instead of the "w" sound is considered, even by some of the educated and by all of the uneducated, as something of an affectation, and one hears "Hah-vah-e-e" on the islands, instead of "Hah-wah-e," about as often as "valise" instead of "vase" in American society.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

A Characteristic Production of French Genius.

While writing with all the scientific knowledge of a great astronomer, Camille Flammarion, in his marvelous story "Omega; the End of the World," which begins in the April number of The Cosmopolitan magazine, keeps the reader at the highest point of excitement by his vivid description of the alarm and despair excited by the approach of a comet whose collision with the earth has been declared by astronomers inevitable. The description begins at a time when the business of the world has been suspended, and at a great mass meeting held in the Institute of France, we hear the discussion of scientists as to the possibility of a second deluge, the drying up of all the surface water of the globe, or the total destruction of human life by cold, together with all the possible phases of death paralleled by the history of the moon. For scientific statement and sensational effect this characteristic production of French genius is unique, and the reader who reads this marvelous story—and if he begins it he will certainly finish it—will have assimilated without effort a compact store of scientific knowledge. In this way, apart from its absorbing interest, this remarkable piece of fiction will have a distinct scientific value.

BLAINE AND CONKLING

THE NEW YORK EX-SENATOR'S STORY OF THE LIFELONG FEUD.

A Charge of Receiving Illegal Fees Which the Statesman Never Forgave—One Side of an Estrangement That Meant Much to American History.

Colonel Edward Gebhard, a lawyer in the Mutual Life Insurance building, said that he thought the true reason for the bitter feeling between Roscoe Conkling and James G. Blaine had never been printed. He said that during Mr. Conkling's life in New York city he frequently met the great Republican statesman from Utica, and on several occasions they talked about his difference with Mr. Blaine. Colonel Gebhard said:

"Conkling used to come up to see me. We were intimate friends, and one afternoon I told him that I would like to get at the bottom of the estrangement between Mr. Blaine and himself. I told Mr. Conkling that it seemed to me absurd that a man who had been a lawyer all his life, and a public man, should have taken offense at Mr Blaine's speech calling him a turkey gobbler, etc. It was something I could not comprehend. Mr Conkling replied 'It is just as absurd to me to take it that way as it is to you You know I have practiced law all my life. If lawyers permitted the animosities of public trials to warp their sensibilities, we would be in a fight with all the world. The true cause of the quarrel between Mr. Blaine and myself is that Mr. Blaine took an unfair advantage of me in the house of representatives to reflect upon my personal integrity

'In the discussion growing out of the discontinuing of the office of provost marshal general Mr. Blaine rose to a question of personal privilege. Mr. Conkling told me that he did not pay much attention to Mr. Blaine's speech until he heard his name mentioned. Then after listening, he found Blaine was making a personal assault, foreign to the matter of personal privilege and alien to the subject under discussion. Conkling said he listened, and the more he listened the more he was amazed, and then he became angry. Conkling said that he so lost control of himself under the impulse of the moment that he went to his friend, Thad Stevens, and said:

"'Mr. Stevens, you have heard what Mr. Blaine has just said. What shall I do? The question of personal privilege Mr. Blaine used was a personal attack upon my integrity. He has characterized me as a man who has accepted employment from the government while I was a member of congress, and while in that employment had received fees paid to me by Secretary Stanton, and that the fees embraced pay for services which had been illegally rendered by me to the government of the United States in doing some work in the western part of the state This work included the investigation of certain bounty frauds which had taken place in Elmira, and the secretary came to me and employed me to get at the root of the trouble. I devoted a great deal of time to the business, and the upshot was that the government recovered, through my efforts, many thousands of dollars Upon my return to Washington Secretary Stanton sent for me and offered $10,000 in payment for my services, which I refused to accept. I said to him at that time that if I was to receive anything I preferred to arrange the price myself, and at all events I would not accept such a sum.

"'Pending the discussion between Secretary Stanton and myself I went to Utica and talked over the matter with Governor Seymour and Judge Denio, chief judge of the court of appeals, both Democrats. I told them that I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. I did not want to make a show of purity that would be ridiculous, and I did not care about accepting a fee that might be questioned. On my return to Washington the check of Secretary Stanton was reduced to $3 500 Even then I was timid about accepting it, but Stanton said: "By God! I know what services are worth I have been a lawyer all my life, and this money you have got to take." I did take the money. I felt that I had earned it, and when Mr. Blaine referred to this in the house I felt that he had taken a mean advantage, and I determined never to speak to him again'

"Mr. Conkling told me," continued Mr Gebhard 'that Mr Stevens said to him, I'll attend to this for you, Mr Conkling, and will call for a committee of inquiry."

"A committee was appointed for the purpose of investigating and reporting and when it became evident that the report of the committee would entirely exonerate Mr. Conkling from the alleged irregularities, then it was that he recognized the fine hand of Mr Blaine or his friends in the successful attempt to frustrate the purposes for which the committee was appointed.

"Mr. Conkling told me that he never spoke to Mr. Blaine from that time: that all the charges that Blaine had brought against him were groundless. 'That is the cause for my feeling against Mr. Blaine,' said Mr Conkling 'and I shall never speak to the man again or recognize him till he, in as public a place as the house of representatives, makes an apology for the assault he made upon me at that time.'

"Several attempts were made to reconcile Mr Conkling and Mr. Blaine, but Mr Conkling always said: 'When Mr. Blaine gets up in congress and takes back this charge, then I will be prepared to meet him, and until he does it there I will never speak to him again.' Subsequently, during the Blaine campaign of 1884, Conkling told me: 'I have received an invitation to a dinner at which Mr. Blaine is to be present. I wonder what the getters up of this dinner take me for. I am a Republican, and I believe in the success of my party, but there is one thing I will never do, I will never meet Mr. Blaine until he makes an apology as public as his charges.'"—New York Sun.

CRUEL FRIENDS.

How a Dear and Loving Woman Tried a Mother's Patience.

In no respect are the friends outside the sanctuary of home crueler than in acting upon the conviction that what Mrs. Stowe defines as "terms of undress intimacy" with us justifies them in parceling out our time to suit their convenience and pleasure. Women are most unconscionable in this species of torture. Men have been slaves to business for so many centuries that the masculine guest or neighbor, albeit a favorite crony, has a glimmering appreciation of the fact that his associates must have time in which to earn a living. The cruelest of friends is the woman who does nothing in particular and at no particular time and is so fond of you, who have a specific occupation and set hours for carrying it on, that she cannot be happy away from you and finds the day savorless which has not been salted by a comfortable talk between you and herself.

A very fiend of affectionate barbarity was a rich and idle woman who chose as her bosom friend the busy wife of a city clergyman and the mother of five children. Of these children she was also the governess until the boys were ready for the college preparatory school and sent her three girls from the family schoolroom to Smith and Vassar. She judged rightly that she would lay the foundation rudiments of thorough scholarship more conscientiously than hired instructors and enjoyed the noble task.

Her husband's parishioners were cognizant of her expressed desire that that part of the day lying between 9 and 1 o'clock should be devoted to her pupils, and, to the credit of those who did not aspire to the honor of such intimacy at the rectory as might warrant reversal of household arrangements, it may be stated that her eccentricity in this regard was generally respected.

The wealthiest vestryman's wife, by virtue of her peculiar attachment to the industrious housemother, spurned regulations not of her own making and declared her independence by word and deed. The rector's wife loved her for her many excellent qualities and valued her answering esteem. I think, nevertheless, that Mephistopheles would have been a more welcome apparition than the smiling visage that presented itself twice or thrice each week at the study door with the coaxing apology:

"I know you can't bear morning calls, but I was actually famishing for a glimpse of you. I'll just sit over here in the corner with my fancy work and never lisp a syllable—just feast my eyes and ears. The children don't mind the presence of mamma's dearest friend."

The children did mind, and mamma more than they, an intruder who distracted eyes and thoughts and embarrassed recitations none the less for the frequency of the visitation. A gravel stone in the shoe is one of the minor ills of the daily walk to which the flesh is slow to become reconciled. A common acquaintance could have been denied at the outer entrance, or had she reached the penetralia could have been bowed out into the drawing room. An uncommon friend grappled with the sufferer at a fatally short distance.—Marion Harland in Harper's Bazar.

Prior as a Diplomat.

Prior had several qualifications for diplomatic work. Though he must sometimes have been hampered by his humble origin, he never failed to maintain the dignity of his official position. His special knowledge of commerce, his readiness, his humor, his fluency in French, his familiarity with Horace (a useful accomplishment in the Augustan age) and even "ce visage de bois," as Bolingbroke called it, must often have been of service to him. But Prior's life when he had the honor of representing Queen Anne at the French court was not happy. His letters during that period show that he was uneasy about the prospects of his party and felt his own position to be insecure.

In those days, moreover, the British government was not a good paymaster; generals had sometimes to find money from their own pockets to pay their soldiers, and embassadors' salaries were often in arrear. When the crash came Prior found himself in an unfortunate plight. He was looked coldly on both by the new administration and by his own party. It was stated that he had made revelations, and it was even supposed that his indiscretion was the cause of Bolingbroke's ill judged flight. For this malicious report there is, so far as we know, no trustworthy foundation.—London Athenæum.

Australia is a great tea drinking country, and most of the medium sorts of black find a ready sale in the southern land. Very little green tea, and that usually for mixing, is imported there.

In a single season it is said that 5,000,000 dead birds were used by the milliners of our seaboard cities. Over 42,000 of these came from Cape Cod alone.

When the refrigerator is placed near the cook stove in the kitchen, the cook complains that the ice melts so rapidly that her milk sours every day.

MISCELLANEOUS.

COMPLETE MANHOOD AND HOW TO ATTAIN IT.

At last a medical work that tells the causes, describes the effects, points the remedy. This is scientifically the most valuable, artistically the most beautiful, medical book that has appeared for years; 96 pages, every page bearing a half-tone illustration in tints. Some of the subjects treated are Nervous Debility, Impotency, Sterility, Development, Varicocele, The Husband, Those Intending Marriage, etc.

Every Man who would know the Grand Truths, the Plain Facts, the Old Secrets and New Discoveries of Medical Science as applied to Married Life, who would atone for past follies and avoid future pitfalls, should write for this WONDERFUL LITTLE BOOK.

It will be sent free, under seal, while the edition lasts. If convenient enclose ten cents to pay postage alone. Address the publishers,
